5:30 and 7:00 p.m.

*Held at Peninsula

Gig Harbor, Washington*

Celebrating the Life of Crystal Judson

Five years ago on April 26, Crystal Judson senselessly lost her life at the hands of domestic violence in Gig Harbor.

Since her death, Crystal's parents, Lane and Patty Judson, and The Crystal Judson Foundation have been working hard to bring the message of hope for domestic violence awareness and prevention to as many as possible.

The Preliminary Program at 5:30 p.m. traces Crystal's life and the tragedy as told by her father, Lane Judson. Then at 7 p.m., the candlelight program celebrates Crystal's life in a positive way through music, uplifting talks and the hope of what lies ahead. The Foundation is actively involved in the goal of building a living memorial to Crystal—a new ice arena, the Palais de Crystal—a gift to the people of Gig Harbor. This event is free to the public.
